Police Also Seize Negroes With Arms

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—Police jailed roving segregationist John Kasper without bond today on charges of inciting violence that accompanied the integration of first graders at Nashville schools.

A few hours later, authorities arrested five Negroes in a station wagon which contained a number of shotguns and pistols. The vehicle was parked near an area where three of Nashville's newly-integrated elementary schools are located.

Kasper's arrest was his third within a 12-hour period. City and county authorities told the 27-year-old wanderer he will be arrested repeatedly until he gets out of the racially-tense Nashville area and stays out.

Davidson County officials brought the new charge against Kasper, basing it, they said, on his display of a noose at a Monday night segregation rally in front of the state capitol here. Shortly after the rally broke up, terrorists dynamited one of the city's seven schools where racial integration at the first grade level had begun the previous morning.

Attendance appeared to be up over Tuesday's light turnout when classes opened this morning, the third day of a gradual integration plan devised by local school authorities. Officials hoped that a vigorous police crackdown on troublemakers of both races would bring an early end to the city's racial difficulties.

Up until this morning, there had been 33 arrests in connection with the racial turmoil, including the jailing Tuesday of five men in connection with the school dynamiting.

In an area where three of the six remaining integrated schools are located. They were taken into custody when officers found two guns in the car.

County Buys 35 New Vote Machines

Keeping pace with the rapid growth of Bucks county the Bucks County Commissioners yesterday announced that they had purchased 35 additional voting machines in preparation for the November general election.

At a press conference conducted by Commissioner John T. Welsh, chairman of the board, it was also announced that a number of voting districts in Bucks county are being combined under a new law providing uniting of adjoining districts where it is found to be more satisfactory.

'Saves' $3500

The county originally purchased 265 voting machines at a cost of $1,423 apiece, with an option of buying the additional 35 machines if so desired, and at the originally quoted price. Purchase of the 35 extra machines will save the county $3,500, since the cost of the machines has increased $100 since the original order was placed and the machines delivered.

Registration has increased rapidly in the county's 149 voting districts that will use 279 voting machines for the first time in November. The additional machines ordered on the option will be used as spares in time of an emergency and for any further growth during the next several years. They will also be used for demonstration purposes.

Commissioner Welsh explained the new law pertaining to com-

Snack Bar Is Gutted By Flames

By MAURY ALLEN
Courier-Times Staff Writer

A $6,000 fire ripped the inside of the snack bar and projection room of the Morrisville Drive-In, West Trenton Ave., Falls Township, early this morning.

The flames started in the storage room next to the snack bar and quickly spread through the entire building. It houses the food, soft drinks, and films for the nightly movie.

Robert Jones, chief of Falls Township No. 1, estimated the cost of the damage. He said the fire probably started from a short in the wire.

Only the walls stood after smoke and flames climbed through the interior.

The screen, several hundred feet away, was not touched.

May Open Tonight

Robert Baronoff, 5 Wisteria Lane, Willowood, Levittown, owner of the drive-in said tonight's film may be shown, depending on the verdict of the electrician.

Tonight's program is headlined by the film "White Slavery."

Baronoff said the theatre is his full time business and he will try to get it in shape as soon as possible if it can't go tonight.

Temporary Stand

The refreshment stand is definitely out for tonight, and for a long while. He will attempt to set up a temporary stand, he said.

Charles Reed, 11 Lakeside Drive, Levittown, came in shortly before 7 o'clock this morning to clean the candy stand.

He noticed smoke and called firemen immediately. More than 60 fire fighters from Falls Township and Morrisville's Union and Capitol View Fire Companies responded in minutes.

Flames Spread

When the firemen arrived, the smoke had spread through the building and flames were climbing up the wall.

Firemen cracked holes in the structure to keep the flames from growing worse. Water was pumped into the building at constant intervals.

Frames Stand

Flames and smoke chewed up the entire refreshment stand and left only the frames of the projection room, refreshment room, and rest rooms standing.

Chief Jones said firemen would be on hand most of the day to see that flames do not erupt again.

Good Evening!

And a good evening it is!

Especially after that gorgeous drizzle yesterday and storm last night which restored the reservoirs, refreshed the lawns and polished up the goldenrod. Tough we didn't get that one in mid-July.

Today just like June in September — which it is.

And President Eisenhower continues urging patience.

We've never yet had a critical malady, whether in the U.S. or on the global diplomatic-political front, that time and infinite patience didn't team up to ease, if not cure.

And somehow or other we've all grown a wee bit wiser for the experience.

Bristol hires a borough manager, we see by the papers, Ira M. Gates, to handle administrative affairs of the community.

We wish him luck and good fortune. And if borough officials really allow him to manage, he'll have both as will the borough itself.

Boss to secretary: "I've got to call my home. Send my daughter a telegram and tell her to get off the phone."

Maybe the trouble with the world is that the stupid are cocksure, and the intelligent are full of doubt.

And we suppose, a trouble a man has when he reaches middle age, is to decide which there's the most of — age or middle.

Watch your driving.

Weary Faubus Cuts Agenda, Goes To Bed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus, weary from his bout with the federal government over his refusal to permit school integration here, cancelled all schedules today and went to bed for a rest.

Faubus, under federal injunction subpena for his continued defiance of court orders to remove national guard troops from a school, had been scheduled to appear on a statewide radio hookup this afternoon.

The governor, who has been ordered to a hearing on the injunction matter Sept. 20, had planned to submit to telephoned questions from listeners in an effort to have their guidance about his future course.

A spokesman in his office said Faubus was not ill but had gone to bed for the day to get a much-needed rest.

"He is not sick, but just weary and not feeling well," the spokesman said.

Arnold Sikes, administrative assistant to Faubus, said the governor at first objected to calling off the broadcast but "realized there was nothing new to report and that the situation was stalemated" until the subpoena hearing.

All was quiet today at both Central High, where a few National Guardsmen loitered around the area, and at North Little Rock High, where there was a tense integration incident earlier in the week.

Home front reaction could help him decide whether to give up or to resist an injunction against further use of the guard to keep nine Negroes out of Central High.

Faubus made it clear, however, he will leave at least a token force of troops at the school for the present, regardless of the injunction action taken against him late Tuesday.

Asian Flu Outbreak Feared In Louisiana

WASHINGTON (UP)—Public health officials kept an anxious eye today on an outbreak of Asian flu in Louisiana, fearing the start of an epidemic.

The state has an estimated 60,000 cases of Asian flu — half of them in New Orleans.

Assistant Surgeon General William H. Stewart told the United Press the Public Health Service is watching the Louisiana situation closely. He said it is "a little early to tell whether this is the beginning of the spread of Asian flu around the country."

Bristol Borough Names Manager

Bristol Borough Council has selected a 29-year-old Kittanning, Pa., man as borough manager.

Burgess Anthony Niccol said the appointment of Ira M. Gates will "save the borough thousands of dollars in economic administration."

William Veitch, borough council president, said the manager will assume his new duties Oct. 7. His contract will run through the first Monday in January, 1960.

Mr. Gates will start at a salary of $7,000 with a $10,000 maximum.

Born in Mount Union, Pa., Gates is an Air Force veteran and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Westminster and a master's degree from the University of Pennsylvania in governmental administration.

He has worked as assistant to the city manager in Milford, Conn., and Mount Lebanon, and was executive secretary of the Armstrong County Branch of the Pennsylvania Economy League.

Several other men were interviewed for the position before Gates was selected.

4-Car Snarl Injures Man

One driver was injured and two others received summonses as a result of a four-car traffic tangle on Route 1 yesterday.

Falls Township Police Officers William Moyer and John Taft charged Theodore Fair, Broomall, Pa., with reckless driving.

Police said Harry Kunkle, 778 Redwood Road, Red Rose Gate, Levittown, stopped to let a school bus pass.

His car was struck by a car driven by Davis. The third car, driven by Robert Danjinch, Hatboro, piled in to the Davis car.

Police said the fourth car, driven by Fair, caused the accident by driving too close to Danjinch.

Schools Plan 2 Additions

Additional wings will be constructed on two Pennsylvania elementary schools in time for next year's school opening.

The Manor Elementary School and the Penn Valley Elementary School, Falls Township, will have wings of eight and six classrooms, respectively, added.

Medill Bair, regional superintendent of the Pennsylvania Schools, said only classrooms will be added. All additional facilities from heating to eating rooms were originally constructed with the future expansion provided.

The project is expected to cost $350,000.

Construction work will not affect the present setup, with classes expected to continue during the work.

Three Crashes Hurt 3 On Same Street

Three persons were injured in three different accidents at Route 1 and Woodbourne Road, Middletown Township, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Christeen Camper, 40, of Attalla, Ala., was most seriously injured. She was admitted to Lower Bucks County Hospital with severe back strain. The hospital reports she is in satisfactory condition today.

She was riding with her husband, Bill L. Camper, 45, at 3:20 p.m. along Route 1. They stopped at the traffic light. Another car, driven by Austin Mellot, 37, of Bedford, O., stopped behind them. A third car operated by Thomas Hill, of Verdun, Quebec, Canada, crashed into the rear of Mellot's car, police said. The impact forced Mellot's vehicle into Camper's car.

Fined $10
Hill was fined $10 with $5 costs by JP William Oettinger on charges of driving too fast for conditions.

Earlier Samuel Gurevitz, 69, of 315 Seventh Ave., New York, and his sister-in-law, Helen Gurevitz, 53, of Astoria, Long Island, were injured when their car swerved out of control and hit an approaching car head on.

Gurevitz was driving west on Route 1 near Woodbourne Road at the time. He struck a car driven by...

Morrisville To Ask State For Relief On Sewage

Going, Going, Gone

Mrs. Paul Murphy of 6 Fillmore St., Bristol, a bridge commission stenographer, checks over some of the more than 1,500 items the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission will put on sale Friday at its Morrisville offices. The items, valued at $25,000, were accumulated by a former commission and deemed "not needed" by the present board. Other articles were collected instead of tolls. The sale will be held at 1 p.m., Friday, in the agency's lot at Wood and Washington Sts., Morrisville. The sale will be conducted by Brown Brothers, Doylestown. (Courier-Times Photo.)

Cesspools Seepage Runs Into Streams

Morrisville Borough Council voted last night to contact state officials to seek relief to the problem of cesspool seepage clogging borough streams.

Borough officials said seepage from cesspools in Yardley and Lower Makefield is running into borough streams and can cause a serious health hazard.

The streams are owned by the state and the borough is not legally able to do anything to clean them out.

The condition has become so bad the creeks have stopped flowing and have become stagnant with waste sitting on the top of the water.

Outside Sources

Council was more disturbed by the situation because this is waste coming into the borough from outside sources.

Morrisville has its own sewer system for borough homes. Yardley and Lower Makefield, north of the borough, do not have sewer systems but use cesspools for waste elimination.

County officials have examined the situation in Morrisville streams but the borough has received little satisfaction from them.

The session, attended by 60 members, was the first in the new fire house at Newportville Road.

In the monthly report, the company answered 23 alarms. An average of 17 men responded to each fire. More than 400 men answered the calls. The trucks were in service 17 hours and ten minutes. The company worked 343 man-hours.

Do You Have A Favorite Clerk?

Do you go to certain stores because you like to shop with certain individuals in those stores?

Would you like to know more about those who can serve you in other stores?

Would it be helpful to you to know more about the background, experience and qualifications of the individuals in many firms where trained people might be able to give you important advice or suggestions regarding materials, styles, and the many technical matters that the average shopper might not be completely informed about?

Look up the Survey ad in Monday's paper—or if the Monday paper has been thrown out—just write us a letter—in your own way—about this Survey Question of the Week which asks if you would like to have this information about individuals who can be particularly helpful in your shopping because of their training and experience.

Since the purpose of this "voluntary" Survey is to find out just what you readers want, so that we can improve shopping conditions—it is up to you to "have your say" because only you know what YOU think—and we cannot know unless you tell us.

Bristol to Host Drill Contests

Bristol, for the fourth consecutive year, will be host to the National Drum and Bugle Corps Association drill competition.

The Eastern States Championship contests will be Saturday, Sept. 28, under the lights of Bristol's High School Stadium.

Local members of the Robert W. Bracken American Legion Post 302, and the Bracken Cavaliers, said this year's competitions will be the finest array of drum and bugle corps ever assembled. The contests have been called "the world series of the drum and bugle corps."

The 1956 winner of the Eastern States Championship was the St. Vincent Cadets of Bayonne, N.J. It's expected they'll be back to defend the title and maintain the Eastern States flag donated by Kaiser Metal firm and Local 130.

The contest last year was attended by 3,000 fans, spokesmen said and the committee is expecting even larger crowds this year.

Negotiations are underway to get the finest team of judges available in the fields of music and military precision drill.

Will Write

Borough Secretary Robert H. Steward was instructed to write to the state board of health before the situation becomes "more serious than it already is and seek relief."

In other action council approved the purchase of 400 water meters, 100 to be delivered this year and the remainder spread out over next year.

A resident complained that he had a meter in his house and was paying more water costs than those without meters. He asked council to take it out of his house and charge him a flat rate.

Council said this would set a bad precedent and the case would have to be judged on individual merits after all the facts were studied with the Water and Sewer Authority.

United Fund Campaign Insurance Section Captain Is Named

The pace-setting Insurance Section of the Bucks County United Fund campaign has named another volunteer captain to conduct the solicitation of Real Estate and Insurance firms. William Belser, manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's Levittown office has been named to the post by section chief Edwin T. Johnson.

Mr. Belser joins the United Fund campaign in Lower Bucks County with a distinguished record of service in other community campaigns including the Red Feather drives of past years. During the war he was prominent as a leader in War Bond Sales campaigns.

The volunteer captains in the Insurance section will conduct a full-scale solicitation of all insurance and real estate agencies in Lower Bucks County seeking fair share gifts from companies and employees on behalf of the 17 social services which gave up their separate appeals in favor of one united campaign.

Mr. Belser is a member of the Life Underwriters Association of Lower Bucks County.

Mr. and Mrs. Belser reside at 45 Shadywood Drive in Levittown. Their son, Dr. Wm. L. Belser Jr., is a scientist in medical research at the University of California.

Police charged Stasny with "driving too fast for conditions."

Disney PTA to Have Teachers Dedication

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Walt Disney Parent Teachers Association, extensive plans were made for the coming year.

The Program Committee headed by Betty Levinson outlined the programs for the coming year. The first meeting, Monday, will have a "Dedication To The Teachers" as its theme. There will be a panel composed of the teachers. Mr. Linscott, the Administrator, will be the Interrogator. He will question the faculty on the curriculum for the coming year. The purpose is to keep the parents informed on just what is going on at each grade level.

Act As Students

The committee has also planned a tableau in which parents will act as students. A special surprise is in store for the teachers as part of the program.

The sixth grade mothers have been appointed by the Hospitality Committee, headed by Mildred Jenkins, to act as hostesses and will assist in welcoming the parents.

Mildred Kuhn, publication chairman, will take subscriptions for the magazine, published by National Congress of the PTA, called National Parent Teachers Magazine.

To Publish Newspaper

Further plans by the Executive Committee is the publication of a

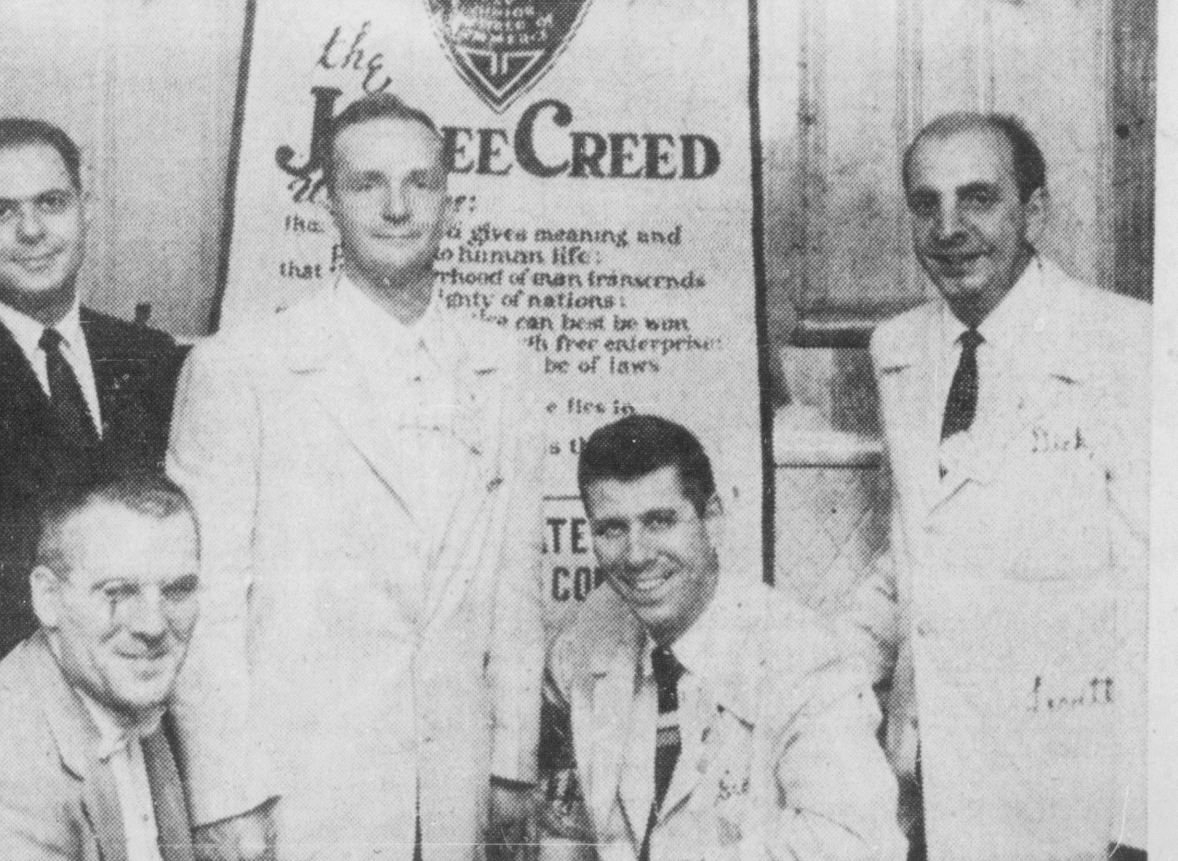

PTA newspaper written by Sylvia Fishbach, Publicity Chairman. This paper will be put out monthly and include all news pertinent to the PTA. Each monthly edition will have a biography of one or more of the teachers news about the PTA meeting, a news story, and items of general interest to the membership.

Roz Edelson, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee has prepared a questionnaire to enlist the talents, interests, experiences, and skills of the membership so that they can do the committee work they prefer and for which they are best suited.

A large attendance is expected for the meeting on Monday because of the successful membership drive conducted by Hal Fitch and his committee.

This year, according to Gertrude Pincus, president, the emphasis in the Walt Disney Parent Teacher Association is not only on a large membership, but also a working membership so that all may contribute to and enjoy a bigger and better PTA.

Thus, Rosenbaum pointed out, that as an affiliated school the I. L. Peretz Jewish School in Levittown enjoys many advantages.

The Lower Makefield Township School Board will accept bids for the construction of a new elementary school at a special meeting Sept. 24 at Pennsbury High School.

The new elementary school, as yet unnamed, will be located at Quarry and Creamery Roads in Lower Makefield Township.

September, 1958
Planned as a first section of a complete school unit with wings to be added as necessary, the building is expected to be completed in time for September, 1958.

To be constructed on a 35-acre site, purchased by the Lower Makefield School Board several months ago, the new school will include eight classrooms, an office area and possibly a cafeteria and all purpose room.

Projected cost will run from $300,000 without the cafeteria to $425,000 if the cafeteria and all purpose room is approved.

Approximately 240 children are to be in the first class of the school.

Medill Bair, superintendent of the Pennsbury Schools, said the construction will be paid for by the independent school board and not as part of the jointure of which Lower Makefield is a part.

Hankins and Stull, Trenton, are the architects for the new school. Construction is expected to begin shortly after awarding of contracts later this month.

In about a month residents of Yardley will be looking at a shiny new municipal building.

The Yardley Borough Council this week approved painting of the municipal building and the interior of the police office and cell in the building.

Contract Awarded
Clouse and Finley of Bristol were awarded the contract for the job for an estimated price of $810. This was the lower of the two bids received for the job.

Russell J. Arata, Lookover

Work Starts On 3rd Street In Borough

The third street being constructed in Morrisville, Palmer St., should be ready for traffic in a week.

Borough secretary Bob Steward said grade stakes have been placed along the street and construction, started yesterday, should be completed in a short while.

Other new streets include Prospect St., now complete, and Washington St., started Friday.

The machine used for grading the street suffered a broken part during the first day's construction but is now being repaired.

This is expected to be completed in a day or so and the work on Palmer St. resumed immediately.

Speeders Warned

Yardley Boro To Use Walkie-Talkie Set

Motorists making a trip through Yardley within the next few days are warned to beware.

Police Chief Frank Morgan announced that the newly acquired walkie-talkie set will be pressed into operation very shortly.

To Clamp Down
"We are going to clamp down on speeders through the borough and the set should really be quite an asset."

"This should be a good way of halting some of the excessive speeding in the borough," Chief Morgan said.

Frederick Bebbington, Yardley borough secretary, said the new outfit was purchased from the Almo Radio Company with offices in Trenton and Philadelphia.

Delivery Made
The council approved purchase

last month and delivery on the set was made this week from the radio company.

The entire set, a two piece operation, was purchased by the borough for $198.

Several other communities, including near-by Morrisville and Bensalem, have tried walkie-talkie sets with satisfactory results in police work.

Pope Wants TV Censors

VATICAN CITY (UP)—Pope Pius XII today called for social and moral censorship of radio, movies and television.

In the 22nd encyclical letter of his 18-year reign as spiritual leader of the Roman Catholic church, the Pontiff warned of the grave dangers which "can best Christian faith and morals if the powerful inventions of motion pictures, radio and television are perverted by men to evil uses."

In the encyclical letter, called "Miranda Prorsus" (remarkable technical inventions), and signed by the Pope on Sept. 8, the Pontiff said that unless "set laws" and "moral safeguards" are applied to the movies, radio and television, "they will restrict the people's true development and weaken their morals."

He called upon both industry and the state to cooperate with the church to help "these new arts make their proper and natural contribution to the right fashioning of minds."

Music Circus Has Stormy Opening Night

BY BEA BADNER
Courier-Times Staff Writer

"Mister Roberts" thundered into the Lambertville Music Circus last night and was met by a somewhat damp but receptive audience.

It was most unfortunate that so much of the "naughtical" dialogue of this final presentation of the season was lost beneath the din of the storm for the entire first half of the performance.

Break In Storm

The intermission brought a break in the downpour that gave the cast the opportunity to project itself into this established hit comedy of life aboard the U.S. Navy Cargo Ship AK160, operating in the back area of the Pacific during World War II.

Actually, it was not until the second half of the show that cast and audience were able to come to an understanding.

James Thor, familiar to television viewers for his role in "Foreign Intrigue" and to theatre-goers for his many appearances on Broadway, is well cast as handsome Mister Roberts, the bulwark between his liberty starved men and the psychopathic captain.

Gabriel Dell received considerable applause from the audience for his meaty portrayal of Pulver, the ensign with an "aye" for women.

Ted Jacques, veteran of the Broadway production, in the role of Captain and Frederic Downs as Doc together with the wit-ticisms and antics of the crew makes for a good evening's entertainment.
